THE LIBE

WEDNESDAY MAY 1, 2013

ISSUE 15/SPRING'13

Visit us online at globeslcc.com

Pricey parking, bargain busing

Initiative seeks higher parking fees, free UTA passes

Nathan Cunningham

Contributing Writer

There may be a way for SLCC students to receive free UTA passes, but it would come at the expense of those who chose to park on campus.

An initiative started by Professor Howard Ingle's ecopsychology class proposes that the school raise parking fees, and in turn, offer students free UTA passes. Members of the class were at the Redwood Campus Student Center on Earth Day collecting signatures in support of the action.

"[SLCC] has the largest carbon footprint in the entire Wasatch Front," said Ingle. "All the other universities provide free TRAX passes for their students, and their parking fees are higher than ours. We essentially are encouraging people to drive, but parking is a huge problem."

This initiative follows a semester of overfull lots at many SLCC campuses and a winter of badly polluted air.

"The air is making people sick," said Ingle. "It's a major concern."

The environment and parking aren't Ingle's only concerns. The initiative would also impact those who haven't been able to afford transportation.

"There are poor students who receive Pell Grants to come to school, but they still can't get here because UTA passes are expensive," said Ingle.

This isn't the first time Ingle has presented the idea. A similar petition also circulated in 2011, but didn't get enough student attention.

"A lot of students have the misconception that their voice doesn't matter," said Ingle. "But the student voice does have a lot of power. We have our recycling program because of students."

In 2009, students signed a petition to add $1.50 to student fees in order to pay the wages

PARKING/

Photo courtesy of Heide Gress

Tenth annual Raw Couture fashion show gallops into the

Brittiney Avis
Contributing Writer

College's Fashion Institute shows the fashion show. off their hard work this semester at the 10th annual Raw Couture collections from ten different Fashion show held at the Natural History Museum of Utah.

This year's theme is American Indians, inspired by the Utah Museum of Fine Arts exhibition titled Bierstadt to Warhol: American Indians in the West.

"It's going to be different from past shows - its 100 percent student produced," said fashion continued on page A2 | show production class instructor a cultural celebration."

Tiffany, Cali, Nathan, Alejandra and Sarah model western styling of the SLCC Fashion Show Production Class.

This is Gress' first semester as an SLCC instructor. She also serves are a part of the Fashion Institute's as photographer for the designers, designer class. Designers were On May 4, Salt Lake Community and helped the designers promote able to select professional models

> Raw Couture will include designers, with seven inspired pieces in each collection. The show introduces clothing collections that present a variety of attires ranging from casual to lingerie to outfits for kids.

The show is put together by the Fashion Institute production class which is offered at the Library Square Campus. Students put in an average of six hours each per Museum of Utah.

Heidi Gress. "The whole show is week for four months to create a (figuratively) seamless show.

The designers of the collections that volunteered after an open casting call.

According to the show's press release, a percentage of proceeds will benefit the Utah Cultural Celebration Center.

Tickets for the Raw Couture show are available at www.ticketcake. com. Tickets for students are $12 and General Admission is $25.

Doors for the show open at 6:30 p.m. and the runway shows start at 7:15 p.m. at the Natural History

Hablo by the end of summer

New intensive courses offer a condensed path to fill credit requirement

Aaron Clark

Contributing Writer

This summer, the SLCC Humanities, Language Culture Department is offering an experimental set of immersion language classes designed to help students get a year' worth of language instruction in 12 weeks. SLCC will offer classes in Spanish, Chinese and French. Each language class will run about three and a half hours per day. Students will take two courses for a total of 10 credit hours, and will save over $1300 off comparable tuition at a 4-year school.

"This is a great opportunity for students to 'Step Ahead' during

> LANGUAGE/ continued on page A2

Local Theater

SLCCSA showcases student films with red carpet event

Aldo Gomez

Staff Reporter

On Thursday, April 25, the Center Oak Room was filled with students and family as the Salt Lake Community College Student Association (SLCCSA) celebrated its sixth annual film festival with dinner and awards.

The SLCCSA celebrates the Taylorsville Redwood Student talent of SLCC filmmakers by

> SLCCSA/ continued on page A2

Photo by Aldo Gomez

SLCCSA Film Festival award winners were recognized at an Oak Room Gala on April 25.

Students to end school year with 5th annual Bruin Bash

Aaron Clark

Contributing Writer

To celebrate the end of the school year, SLCC will hold the fifth annual Bruin Bash for students and their families.

The event will be held from 5 p.m. to midnight on Friday, May 3 at the Taylorsville Redwood Student Center. Organizers say that it'll be a fun opportunity to mingle with not only other students, but the faculty, staff and community as well.

event that creates unity with SLCC students and the local community," said Katie Sanderson, Student Life and Leadership Taylorville Activities vice president. "This is a last hurrah for students to celebrate all their hard work during the school year."

This is the fifth year that SLCC has hosted the celebration, and student leadership aims to make this upcoming Bruin Bash the best yet. This year there will be live acts that include magician Derek Hughes, and band J. Wride, which will perform at the amphitheater near the Student Center.

Other activities include a live comedy act, mechanical bull, henna tattoo artists, climbing wall, stilt walkers and sumo wrestling. Students with families are encouraged to bring their children "The Bruin Bash is a super fun as there will be child friendly activities including balloon artists, face painters, jugglers and a bounce house. There will also be free popcorn and cotton candy available for everyone.

> BASH/ continued on page A2

STUDENT EVENTS

WED/1

5:00pm-7:00pm Club meeting - Japanese @ TR Campus, SEC,

basement

5:30pm-8:00pm Hispanic/Latino College @ TR Capus, SEC

7:00pm-8:00pm Showcase Week - Acting Il Showcase @ SC Campus, Black Box Theatre, W210

THURS/2 Last Day of Classes

4:30pm-5:30pm Club Meeting - Irish Heritage and Culture @ TR Campus, SEC

7:30pm-9:00pm Speakers Showcase @ TR Campus, TB203 10:00am-12:00pm Thayne Center Celebration of Service Learning @ TR Campus, SEC

FRI/3

5:00pm-12:00am Bruin Bash @ TR Campus, SEC

7:30pm-9:00pm Documentary Film Screening @ TR Campus, TB 203

7:30pm-9:00pm SLCC/Taylorsville Symphony Orchestra @ Taylorsvile High School

SAT/4

Finals

6:30pm-10:0pm Raw Couture Fashion Show @ Museum of Natural History Cost: $25/$12 Studentt

MON/5

Finals

2:30pm-5:00pm Club meeting - Chess @ TR Campus, Markosian Library rm 146

Finals

TUE/6

4:30pm-5:30pm Clubs - Irish Heritage and culture of Ireland @ TR Campus, SEC, Senate Chambers

Submit student events to calendar.globe@slcc.edu Visit www.globeslcc.com/calendar for more student events

Parking

continued from A1

of six part-time staff to collect recycling material from 14 different locations. That year, the college recycled 159,152 pounds of material. In 2012, that number increased to 687,466 pounds.

With the success of the school's recycling program, Ingle hopes students will also get behind the initiative for free UTA passes and drive it to fulfillment. The amount of the possible fee increase is still vague, he says, but depending on how many people want it, it could be 15 to 20 dollars extra. He believes the benefits will far outweigh the costs.

"We're saving the college money, and we're saving the environment at the same time," said Walker.

Bash

continued from A1

Admission for the Bruin Bash is free for students and the community as the event is paid for in part with student fees. Dinner will be available for a cost and will include hamburgers, hot dogs, veggie burgers, chips and drinks.

"This year's event will be an amazing, spectacular, end of the year celebration," said Sanderson. "Students should not miss this year's Bruin Bash because, if anything, they already paid for it with their student fees."

For more information students can visit the Student Life and Leadership web page at www.slcc.edu/

Language

continued from A1

the summer, satisfying their AA requirement and getting them halfway to their BA requirement," said Paul C. Allen, department chair of Humanities, Language and Culture.

The language credits earned during the summer course are directly transferable to the University of Utah (U of U), and current SLCC and U of U students are eligible to enroll.

Students need to be prepared for an entire a.m. to 1:10 p.m., and the condensed into semester.

super dedicated and may Monday through Thursday want to consider taking this from 5:30 to 8:55 p.m. language course as their only classes for summer language course runs from semester," said Lindhardt, assistant for Humanities, runs from July 1 through Language and Culture.

classes will be held Monday the language course is May through Thursday at the 20. Taylorsville Redwood Campus. The Spanish course will run from 9:45 year's worth of instruction Chinese class will run from one 5:30 to 8:55 p.m.

The French class will be "Students need to be held at South City Campus

The first part of the Cherie May 20 through June administrative 28, and the second part Aug. 10. The registration The Spanish and Chinese deadline for the first part of

> For more information and for help with registration, contact Cherie Lindhardt at 801-957-4338.

James entered three

Editor-in-Chief

Brandon Crowley b.crowley@bruinmail.slcc.edu

Campus Editor campus.globe@ slcc.edu

Opinion Editor opinion.globe@ slcc.edu

Photography photo.globe@ slcc.edu

Assistant Editor Photographer

Julie Hirschi

Copy Editor Shad Engkilterra

Reporters

Aldo Gomez

Kachina Choate Stephen Romney Derrick Gainsforth Shad Engkilterra Walker Gale

Jimmie Breed-

Layout Designer Aisha Steger

Advisor

Julie Gau julie.gay@slcc.

Advertising

Paul Kennard p.kennard@ chronicle.utah. edu

Phone: 801.957.4019

Email: globe@slcc.edu

Fax: 801.957.4401

SLCCSA

continued from A1

hosting an online film festival and then awarding given categories judged by Audience Choice Award based on online votes.

"I was very surprised; I did Choice Award. said director Angela Challis, student Andrew James Festival website, www. who won the Audience amazed judges and audience slccfilmfestival.blogspot. Choice Award for her members alike by winning com music video Contemporary four awards.

Gravity. "I was trying to put something different, before."

Fine Arts and Lectures the best films in any of six Board, was the master of ceremonies for the event select panelists. Filmmakers and announced that the are also eligible for the films had received almost 3,000 total views, with over separate films into the music something no one had seen video, action, and drama categories. The French Katelyn Prawitt, student language film Mercer won involvement chair on the first place in the action category as well as the overall first place winner. The other films both won second place in their respective categories.

All of the films that were 350 votes for the Audience entered into the festival are available for viewing not think I would get that," Director and SLCC online at the SLCCSA Film

Technology Building Room 325-G

4600 South Redwood Road Salt Lake City, Utah 84124

> The Globe Online globeslcc.com

Due to the high volume of requests for articles we receive, The Globe may not be able to reply to every letter. Due to our limited staff, The Globe may not be able to attend or cover every event or issue submitted. The Globe encourage emails/ notices of events. However, any request of coverage of an event or issue should be made within a time frame of at least one week.

Photo by Aldo Gomez

• • • • • • • • • • • • • • • Director team of Andrew James (left) and Danny James (right)

The Globe is an independent student newspaper published Wednesday during Fall and Spring Semester (excluding holidays) and Wednesday during Summer Semester. The Globe editors and staff are solely responsible for the newspaper's content. Funding comes from advertising revenues and a dedicated student fee administered by the Student Media Council. To respond with questions, comments or complaints, call (801) 957-4019 or visit slccglobelink.com. The Globe is distributed free of charge, limit one copy per reader. Additional copies may be made available upon request. No person, without expressed permission of The Globe, may take more than one copy of any Globe issue.

CAMPUS

campus.globe@slcc.edu

Student self-publishes book about a mother's farewell to a child

Aldo Gomez Staff Reporter

a mother of two, Salt Lake behind," said Berry. Community College student author.

passes away from cancer. letters. The story is emotional, learning experience.

for the book years ago," said Berry. "But every time reflection of my own life." I tried to sit down and write leaving her child behind."

Being a mother of two artists self-publish girls, Dear Anna, is a distribute. personal story for Berry. When her second daughter opened my eyes to how was born there were serious much proofing and editing complications, and it was you really go through to those complications that make a work polished," brought a new light to the said Berry. "Independent

"Writing this book was doors for people who may almost like a form of not have a best seller, but therapy, because it let me express the pain and fear Jami Brookes Berry is of dying and leaving others

Dear Anna, is a short book and now a self-published at 88 pages. Berry said she wanted to keep Anna's Berry recently released story real and natural. Not her first book, titled Dear wanting to extend the book Anna, a story about the with unnecessary filler, letters a mother leaves for instead she wanted to keep her daughter when she the focus on the mother's

"The letters to Anna are personal and, for Berry, a mostly the things I would want to write to my own "I actually had the idea daughters if I was dying," said Berry. "In a way it is a

Berry was able to it, I just couldn't seem to get publish her book through in the mindset of a mother CreateSpace, an Amazon company that helps new and

"Self-publishing really publishing has opened they have a story worth reading."

The process of self-publishing distribution is made easier through companies like CreateSpace, which give the option of on-demand On-demand publishing. publishing means that the company only has to print the book when it is ordered and only the amount ordered, which takes the pressure off of writers to front up hundreds of dollars and risk not selling enough copies.

"It's not about the number of copies I sell but just having people read something I wrote," said Berry. "A story that is a part of me."

Dear Anna, is out now, available on Amazon for $6.99 and $2.99 for a Kindle version.

For Aldo Gomez' review of Dear Anna, visit globesicc.com

'La Cage aux Folles' opens at South City's Grand Theatre

Aaron Clark Contributing Writer

The Grand Theatre will present La Cage aux Folles from May 9 through 25.

La Cage aux Folles is a heartwarming musical that focuses on the life of a gay couple, Georges, and his partner Aldin, who as a drag queen at a St. Tropez nightclub. Hilarity ensues when George's son, Jean Michel, brings home his fiancée and her socially conservative parents. In an effort to avoid embarrassment Jean Michel asks both Georges and Aldin to pretend to be something its heart it's a fun, delightful musical that has flash and glitz while at the same time is very socially poignant," said actor David Hanson, who plays Georges.

they are not.

The show originally opened in 1983 on Broadway and was a winner of 6 Tony awards including Musical and Best Score, and was later remade as the 1996 film The Birdcage starring Robin Williams.

Salt Lake City.

there is a strong element within this community that is more open than the media portrays," continues Hansen.

than most people think, and that his maternal qualities frankly, this play would have helped him deal with appeal to anybody because emotional people when the challenges presented in they are having their blood the play would affect any drawn. family.'

is not so much on the but I surely have bled for the lifestyle of drag queens audience," joked Parrish. but on the challenges of is also the star attraction their diverse family and Georges and Aldin is a Jean Michel's struggle to driving dynamic of the avoid embarrassment as play, specifically when they he prepares to introduce are asked to pretend to be his fiancée's parents to his something they are not in own. The heart and soul of order to please Jean Michel. the play is how Georges and Their interaction on stage is Aldin try to help their son a critical part of the play and while still maintaining the a major reason why Hanson essence of who they are.

"If you look across the Parrish. board we have all been "I love this show because at embarrassed by our parents chosen to play Georges at some point and that's the goes back to the first night universal truth of this story," said actor Kenneth Wayne (Parrish)," said Hanson. Parrish, who plays Aldin. "Someone once said a man bat, and during the hour we in a dress is funny for about spent auditioning, we fell 5 minutes, but a man who right into it." can play a legitimate woman is funny for hours. Our a play about gay couples Best director (Brent Schneider) and drag queens may face in says this is a show with a conservative market like drag in it but it's not a drag Salt Lake City, the actors show."

This will be only the Aldin in a 2005 production struggles and realize that second time La Cage aux at the Egyptian Theatre in at heart, it's similar to the Folles has been staged in Park City and says that part issues they experience in of the reason he was chosen their own families. "I honestly think that to again play the role was because he brought a very in this show; the fact that "maternal quality" to the character.

Parrish is a phlebotomist at

"We are progressing more Riverton Hospital and says

"I have never asked an The focus of "La Cage" audience to bleed for me,

The interplay between was chosen to play opposite

"I think the reason I was I auditioned with Kenny "We clicked right off the

Despite the challenges that feel confident that audiences Parrish previously played will relate to the family's

"There is genuine love

LA CAGE continued on page A4

Western Governors University is designed to fit your busy life. Competency-based, online programs give you the flexibility to work while you learn. Tuition is charged per term and is low compared to other online colleges and universities. WGU partners with Salt Lake Community College to give generous transfer credits—our affordable, flat-rate tuition is charged per term and is typically half the cost of other online schools. Students of SLCC can also receive a 5% tuition discount for their first two terms at WGU.

Find out more, call 888.882.6204 or visit wgu.edu/Utah.

WESTERN GOVERNORS UNIVERSITY

888.882.6204 wgu.edu/Utah

CAMPUS

Center for New Media nearly complete

Rachael Folland

Contributing Writer

After four years of construction, South City's new facility, which is designed to accommodate The School of Arts, Communication & New Media, is scheduled to open in time for fall semester.

The completion date for The Center for New Media was originally set for January 2012, but there were design changes near the project's launch that delayed completion.

"It's a pretty complicated project because whenever you do a remodel of building versus building a brand new building. there's a lot of unforeseen conditions and things of that nature that affect construction schedule," said project manager Frank Baker.

The project originally sprung from the college's need to expand the evergrowing communication and art departments. The budget for the project was $42 million, which was funded by the state, students, SLCC and the Salt Lake City School District.

The construction team ran into structural issues along the way due to the building's age. They had to rebuild the structure of the building in order to stay up to code. Additionally, the roof over the old pool area was slated to be salvaged, but it was found to be in such disrepair that it needed replacement.

"We had to eliminate the east entrance from the project because of cost," said Baker. "We were able to find funding to get that back in the project. That won't be completed until the 29th of October."

According to Baker, everything is on schedule for the move in July. The plan is to move the library and bookstore in early July, and then have the Communication and Art departments move toward the end of the month. Tours of the new facility are available, and run through the summer. Contact Frank Barker at 801-957-4540 or Kandace Steadman at 801-957-51-21 to schedule a tour

SLCC and Westminster faculty talent abounds at 'An Evening of English Music'

Andrea Ibanez Contributing Writer

On Thursday, April 25, SLCC's South City Campus hosted a musical program showcasing the talents of SLCC and Westminster College faculty with special guests from throughout the Salt Lake Valley. The event, which began at 7:30 p.m. and concluded just after 8:30 p.m., was held in the atrium, a recent addition to the South City Campus' south wing.

"It's only been within the last few months that we discovered this space," said SLCC music faculty member Craig Ferrin, "and we really like it."

The large open structure of the atrium allows sound to flow freely, captivating listeners with a blanket of blissful melodies and tranguil lullabies while providing piercing contrast with pieces featuring themes of sorrow, mourning and despair.

Part of a new faculty showcase series which began earlier this year, performances featured compositions belonging to baroque and post-romantic eras focusing on the works of early English composers.

Opening the program, SLCC faculty member Leslie Henrie and Westminster faculty member Emily Williams performed George Frideric Handel's Sonata in F Major.

Handel's sonata, consisting of four movements, featured a beautiful introduction of delicate yet powerful, muted phrases provided by Williams' piano. With violin in hand, Henrie created an emotionally refined voice to the piece.

Following movements by Handel, Henrie and Williams were joined by four other artists in a performance of Ralph Vaughan Williams' On Wenlock Edge.

The number began sharply and abruptly with an eerie, shrilling sound created by talents of Henrie an emotional richness as well as special guest violinist Rebekah Blackner, violist Leslie Richards and cellist Brittany Gardner.

Vocals featured in the piece, with lyrics originating from poet A. E. Housman's A Shropshire Lad, were performed by special guest Lucas Goodrich, a tenor currently finishing his doctorate at the University of Utah.

A quartet of string instruments created a fleeting movement within the piece, while Williams' accompaniment at the piano accentuated the mystery within the melody. Goodrich's reaching timbre highlighted intense emotions and beneath each verse.

After a brief intermission, Henrie and Williams performed works by British composer Edward William Elgar, beginning with a performance of Salut d'amour, Op. 12.

Elgar's Sonata for Violin and Piano, Op. 82 brought complex melody that gave a the evening's entertainment to a close, showcasing the incomparable talents of both Henrie and Williams one last time.

> The piece began with an abrupt anxiousness, though soon calmed by extended reassuring and playful phrases, and ended with a beautiful ascending melody that expressed characteristic to postromantic compositions.

Overall, performances provided an evening of exceptional music which was more than adequately displayed by the tremendous talent held by each of the program's participating musicians.

La Cage

continued from A1

it happens to be coming from a gay couple becomes irrelevant by the end of the show," said Parrish. "It's about a family showing their love and support for each other no matter what they are asked to do."

10% Off Rent

Ticket prices range from $10 - 24 and SLCC students can attend for free with their OneCard student ID as well as get a discount on up to four additional tickets.

- Studios, 1 & 2 Bedrooms available

- Close to Campus & Shopping

- Washer/Dryer Units Available

- Business Center with Free WiFi

Outdoor Pool & Hot Tub

THROUGH 5/28/12 ONLY!

Excludes previous purchases, Springbar Tents, Wall Tents, Partner Stoves, WM bags, Goal Zero, Go Pro, and Gift Cards. One

outdoor products

IS THURSDAY

Goal Zero® Guide™ 10 PLUS Adventure Kit

Includes Nomad 7 Solar panel, which can charge phone, tablet or AA batteries in 1-2 hours - PLUS Guide 10 battery pack portable Ultralight recharger. Both weigh 18 oz. MSRP $119.95

NOW $99.95

Goal Zero® Rock Out Portable Speaker Rugged & weather resistant 14.5

oz. speaker gives great sound from music player or audio device. Zippered protective case has room to store playing device inside. 6" x 5" x 3". MSRP $29.99

NOW 24.99

OUTDOOR FOOTWEAR

Great selection of multi-sport, hiking, backpacking and trail running models from Vasque, Merrell, Lowa, Salomon, Columbia & more. Over 50 styles. $15.00 to $25.00 OFF

SHORTS FOR MEN & WOMEN

Entire stock from Prana, Royal Robbins, Gramicci, Columbia, The North Face, and Basic Options in cotton and synthetic fabrics. Reg. $35.00 to $69.00 ALL 20% OFF

- Kayaks
- •Eureka Tents
- Yakima Boxes
- •Superfeet
- Bonus Coupon Book
- •Teva Sandals •Lightweight Food
 - •Trekking Poles
 - Headlamps

FOR MORE INFO: kirkhams.com

TERRAMAR ACTIVE TEES

Men's & Women's ultralight 100% polyester Mountain Tees or Poly/Cotton DriRelease® Sport Tees. Lots of colors. Reg. $20.00 & $25.00 SALE $15.99 & $18.99

WOMEN'S VIBRAM® FIVEFINGERS®

Good variety of selected discontinued styles of the original barefoot footwear. Styles for outdoor, walking, running and casual. Reg. $80.00 to $125.00 40% OFF

outdoor products

3125 S State Street | Salt Lake City | 801.486.4161 M-F 9:30-9 | Sat 9:30-7 | Sun 11-6 | Kirkhams.com

ENTIRE STOCK OF SUNGLASSES

Good selection of high quality UV protection in a wide range of prices. 25% OFF

CAMP & CONCERT OUTDOOR CHAIRS Great selection of sturdy, compact & foldable chairs from Alps, Integrity, Eureka and Travel Chair Reg. $24.99 to $84.99

SALE $18.99 to $74.99

CAMELBAK Save BIG on discontinued models, colors as shown only.

Women's Day Star^T 1098 cu.in. capacity pack with 70 oz.

reservoir. Air Director™ back panel. Reg. $80.00 SALE $54.99

Women's Magic™

153 cu.in. multi-compartment pack with 70 oz. reservoir. Ideal for Mountain biking. Reg. $85.00

SALE $59.99

ARTS&ENTERTAINMENT arts.globe@slcc.edu

Music on the Spot: Frank Turner tapes up his broken heart

Derrick Gainsforth Staff Reporter

As a modern English rebel, Frank Turner's sociopolitical commentaries and ire love songs have written a new definition to what is considered folk music. Turner brought his punk infused folk rock back last week with his fifth studio album, Tape Deck Heart.

The album begins with its first single, Recovery, a stage setting track about a relationship rebounding. Turner is shifting away from his typical political content in lieu of an introverted peek into his heart. He's looking back on his life as he begins to recognizing he's Losing Days.

Turner has chosen a more structured, dare I say mainstream approach to his music writing early on in this collection with a more pop-rock feel in The Way I Tend To Be. Although Turner appears to be moving his production away from the raw guitar and DIY feel with the explicit lyrics of Plain Sailing Weather, Turner is still the same vulgar Englishman he's always been.

Turner has traded in his angst drive for a new forlorn heartbreak. In the song Good and Gone, he showcases his search for true love and with lines such as "So f--- you Hollywood for raising us on of the album. After taking dreams of happy endings" it would appear Turner is still holding the glass slipper.

Tell Tale Signs give the listener a downbeat acoustic runs the pace into the look further into Turner's apparent struggles as he sings about a woman named Anymore. "Amy" as the reason for his anguish. But it's not all pain of the album back up with and agony here as Turner simply wants to dance in the upbeat, key twinkling, Four Simple Words. If there's any question that Turner is going a bit softer musically, it is quite apparent in the final tracks a hopeful Polaroid Picture, he slows down the pace drastically in The Fisher King Blues and he nearly ground with the acoustic, nearly a cappella track,

Turner brings the pace the well-rounded, musically full Oh Brother, a song about Turner's relationship with a childhood friend. The finally track, Broken Piano brings the pace and feel to a strange, staggering place and quite honestly the powerful drums are what bring the album to a better ending. However, the piano may actually be broken.

Frank Turner has switched up his game in Tape Deck Heart, some for the better, some for the worse but respectfully with meaning and purpose which truly showcase him as an artist.

BOTTOMLINE: Frank Turner delivers less of the DIY Tape Deck and more Heart with this release.

'Pain & Gain' audiences get plenty of the former, not much of the latter

Stephen Romney Staff Reporter

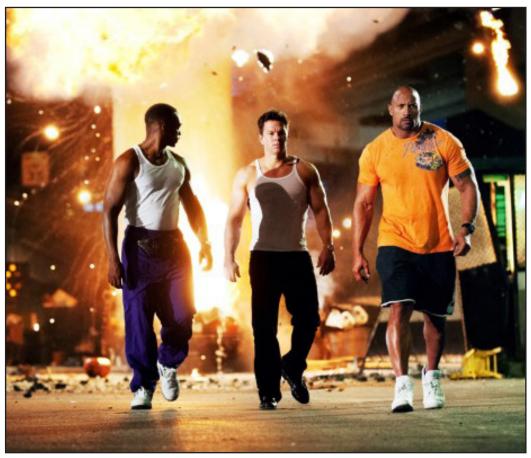

I had pretty low expectations going into Pain & Gain for one reason: Michael Bay. Financially he's been a success, but critically he's panned by many. Throw in the fact that this is based on a true series of events, and my expectations sank even lower. (Remember Pearl Harbor?) However, unlike his other films, he didn't write the script for this one, writing duties instead going to Christopher Markus and Stephen McFeely, the team behind the script for Captain America: The First Avenger.

Based on a series of Miami New Times articles by Pete Collins, Pain & Gain stars Mark Wahlberg as Daniel Lugo, a personal trainer and bodybuilder who decides to move on up in the world by kidnapping millionaire Victor Kershaw, played by Tony Shaloub. and getting him to sign away all of his money and possessions. Joining in on the muscle-headed scheme are fellow fitness enthusiast Adrian Doorbal and reformed convict Paul Doyle, played by Anthony Mackie and Dwayne Johnson respectively.

The first thing that I must say is that the film has trouble choosing which character guides the narration. First, we have a narration from a character we don't meet until later in the film, then we have Wahlberg's character narrating, with the setup feeling as if he's going to be the main voice we hear. However, it then switches to other characters as they are brought into the film. On paper, this sounds like an interesting idea, but it's executed in a manner that's more distracting than anything.

On top of that there are several scenes in the movie that feel pointless and drawn out, making the second and third acts a lot longer than they needed to be. Many of these scenes are also the kind of scenes that Michael Bay has almost become notorious for, resulting in a lot of moments where you'll face-palm and then proceed to shout "WTF Michael Bay?!"

Courtesy of Paramount

The Three Muscleheads: Paul (Dwayne Johnson, right), Daniel (Mark Wahlberg, center) and Adrian (Anthony Mackie).

Another problem is that it seems to have trouble figuring out what type of film it's supposed to be. It starts out feeling like an Ocean's 11-styled comedy with a Tarantino edge, but then suddenly turns into a true crime film, as if they suddenly remembered that this was based on a real

The only compliment that I can give is that it does by now, I did not like have some fairly creative cinematography, making use of various "GoPro" styled shots to add a nice much of that realism is almost nullified when some of the creative shots are used repeatedly, as if Bay wanted to create the illusion a film like this to work, that some scenes were shot in one take a la Rope even though the edits are obvious.

If you haven't guessed this movie. The story had potential as it started out really well, but it takes a sharp nosedive really degree of realism. However, quickly as the touch of Bay does its work in how the film is shot and edited. All of the elements seemed to be in the right place for but they just had to give it to Michael Bay. Bravo Paramount. Bravo.

Have A Blast

JOB POSTING GROUP LEADERS (10-15 kids) for SLC School District After School program 19.5 hrs/wk; M-TH 2:30-5:30/6pm and Fridays 12:30-5:30/6pm.

> Start at $9.50 per hour. Send resume to: heidi.clark@slcschools.org or call 578-8275

What are your plans for your summer break? See far off places? Earn money for school? Why not do both! Come to Dillingham Alaska and work at our shore side salmon processing plant.

Make Some Cash!

Jobs run from mid June to the end of July or into August. Pay rate starts at $8.07/hour with overtime at $12.105 after 8 hours/day and after 40 regular hours/week. When in full swing processing shifts are approx. 16 hours/day. Room & board are provided. Laundry is done once a week! Dorm style housing has 3 to a room so bring some friends. Airfare from Seattle to Dillingham is provided. Return airfare conditional on completion of season. Ome to ALAS

For more information go to www.ppsf.com, fill out an application & specify Dillingham. Please email questions to dillinghaminfo@ppsf.com

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT arts.globe@slcc.edu

Press [Start] to Game: 'Poker Night 2' goes all in and takes the pot

Aldo Gomez Staff Reporter

For PC, Xbox 360, Playstation 3

Poker Night 2 is exactly what it sounds like, a poker game, but poker has never been as much fun as Telltale Games makes it. Poker Night 2 by Telltale Games is the sequel to 2010's Poker Night at the Inventory. The premise is simple: you play poker with some of the funniest pop culture icons of recent years. Apart from just winning money, there are also challenges and unlockables to add flavor to your experience.

The opponent roster consists of Ash from Army of Darkness, Sam from the Sam & Max games, Claptrap from Borderlands 2, GLaDOS from Portal and Brock Samson from The Venture Bros.

The dialogue and character interactions are the real meat of the game. Characters talk to one another, breaking the fourth wall as they discuss their previous television or video game careers, insult one another and even ask one another for honest advice, such as how to track down a set of vintage trading cards.

Players participate in Texas Hold'em or Omaha Hold'em with no special gimmicks or tricks. There are also added challenges that players can try to reach, such as winning two tournaments in a row or winning with a specific card combination. Winning challenges unlocks tokens and unlockables for other games like PS3 themes or Team Fortress 2 hats.

The tokens can also be used to buy in-game items like drinks for the characters, new decks, chips and table felts. These unlockables affect the game by changing the background and the character dialogue.

Poker Night 2 is an excellent example of how to take a simple idea and make it new. Hilarious dialogue, unlockables and challenges keep you coming back to this game.

Brock Samson, Claptrap, Ash and Sam are your opponets, while GLaDOS deals in 'Poker Night 2.'

A conversation with actors and director of 'The East'

Stephen Romney

Staff Reporter

On Saturday, April 27, I was given the opportunity to speak with Brit Marling, Alexander Skarsgård, and director Zal Batmanglij as part of a promotion for their upcoming film The East, a thriller that was shown at the 2013 Sundance director Zal Batmanglij Film Festival and picked up for distribution by Fox Searchlight.

Moss, a former FBI agent who acts as an operative for the private intelligence firm, the environment. Hiller Brood. She is tasked with infiltrating an anarchist research; we did it for our collective known as The East by going undercover and convincing its members of her loyalty and genuine participation. However, things change when she begins to fall in love with the collective's charismatic leader, Benji, played by Alexander Skarsgård, prompting her to question the moral underpinnings of her undercover work.

Prior to writing the screenplay, Marling and spent two months in 2009 practicing Freeganism, which includes reclaiming Brit Marling stars as Sarah and eating discarded food and other behaviors that limit a person's impact on

"We didn't do it for own lives," Batmanglij said. "When you all of a sudden break the lock of a dumpster behind a grocery store and realize how much good food is in those dumpsters that has to be thrown out legally, it changes your perception, especially when you start having three meals ripped out of the headlines of "We just wanted people a day from that."

During their experience, they got involved with an anarchist collective, in addition to learning various skills employed by active "freegans," such as trainhopping, squatting and the aforementioned dumpster lock breaking. Much of that experience along with research into the pharmaceutical industry and inspiration take from other spy thrillers was incorporated preach a message about the into the screenplay.

Weekly Reel

"I think that there were some moments that we experienced on the road that entered the film," Marling said. "We did feel though that all the corporate crimes that happened – those are things that are literally newspapers."

The primary target of the anarchist collective in the film is a multinational pharmaceutical corporation, as the modern anarchy movement focuses less on protesting the government and more on protesting against the corporate structure.

"There was a PBS special about a class of drugs that were causing really severe side effects," Marling said. "The idea sort of came as an 'eye-for-aneye' justice or a group of people who want to hold corporations accountable for this kind of behavior."

While it may appear that this film is seeking to philosophies of the anarchy group depicted in the film, Batmanglij says the film is not about conveying a message but rather getting people on both sides to ask questions.

"We're not preaching anything," Batmanglij said. to ask questions from whatever side they are

Writer's Block

It sucks for everyone.

Our Benefits Include.

- Benefits start day one!
- Paid Time Off!
- Retirement Plan!
- Ability to Promote!
- Up to 90% Tuition Reimbursement!

Job Openings.

- Summer Season Student Loans Reps
- Customer Service Professionals
- Team Leads
- Supervisors
- Collections Specialists
- Reporting Analyst
- Lending Specialist

Discover is located at 2500 S. Lake Park Blvd. WVC, UT 84120

To start your career with Discover visit www.mydiscovercareer.com

